3. What kinds of SEND are provided for at our School?

The SEN Code of Practice (2015) identifies four main categories of need: Communication and Interaction, Cognition and Learning, Social, Emotional and Mental Health and Sensory and/or Physical. Our School supports children with a wide range of needs. Sometimes children may have needs that fall into more than one category below. For example, a child with autism may also experience difficulties with anxiety and would therefore have needs in Communication and Interaction and Social, Emotional and Mental Health. Below are just some examples of difficulties that fall under these categories.

Communication and Interaction

- Difficulties in communicating with others
- Difficulties with social interactions
- Difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is said to them, not understanding social rules of communication
- Children with Autism are likely to have difficulty with social interaction
- Flexibility of thought
- Forming meaningful relationships

Cognition and Learning

- Learning at a slower pace than their peers
- Moderate Learning Difficulties (MLD)
- Severe Learning Difficulties (SLD)
- Profound and Multiple Difficulties (PMLD)
- Specific Learning Difficulties (SpLD) such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia

Social, Emotional and Mental Health

- May demonstrate challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour
- Emotional wellbeing and mental health including: Anxiety or depression, Self-harming and Eating disorders
- Attachment disorder
- Attention Defecit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) or Attention Defecit Disorder (ADD)
- Developmental trauma
- Neurodevelopmental difficulties

Sensory and/or Physical

- Disability that prevents a child from accessing the educational facilities
- Vision Impairment (VI)
- Hearing Impairment (HI)
- Multi-sensory Impairment (MSI)
- Physical Disability (PD)

4. How does our School identify and assess children with SEND?

The Code of Practice (2015) section 6.15 states that

“A pupil has SEN where their learning difficulty or disability calls for special educational provision, namely provision different from or additional to that normally available to pupils of the same age. Making higher quality teaching normally available to the whole class is likely to mean that fewer pupils will require such support.”

The Equality Act 2010 definition of a disability is:

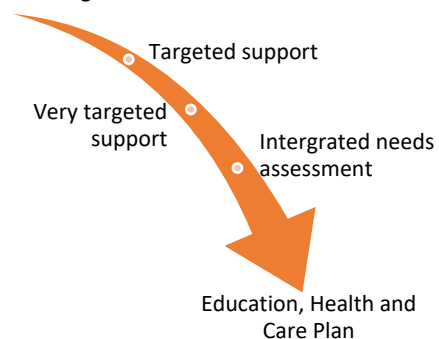

“A person has a disability for the purposes of this act if (s) he has a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on his ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.” Section 1 (1) DDA 1995

The early identification of pupils with SEND is a priority for us as a School. Children are identified as having SEND through a variety of ways, (usually a combination), which may include some of the following:

- Liaison with previous school or pre-school setting,
- Child is performing significantly below age related levels (or equivalent e.g. percentile rankings),
- Concerns raised by a parent,
- Concerns raised by a teacher,
- Liaison with external agencies such as Educational Psychologists, Speech and Language Therapist, Occupational Therapist, Learning Support Teacher, Complex Communication Needs Team, School Nurse,
- Tools for assessing difficulties e.g. standardised tests, Dyslexia Pathway, Dyspraxia Motorway, Strengths and Difficulties Questionnaire,

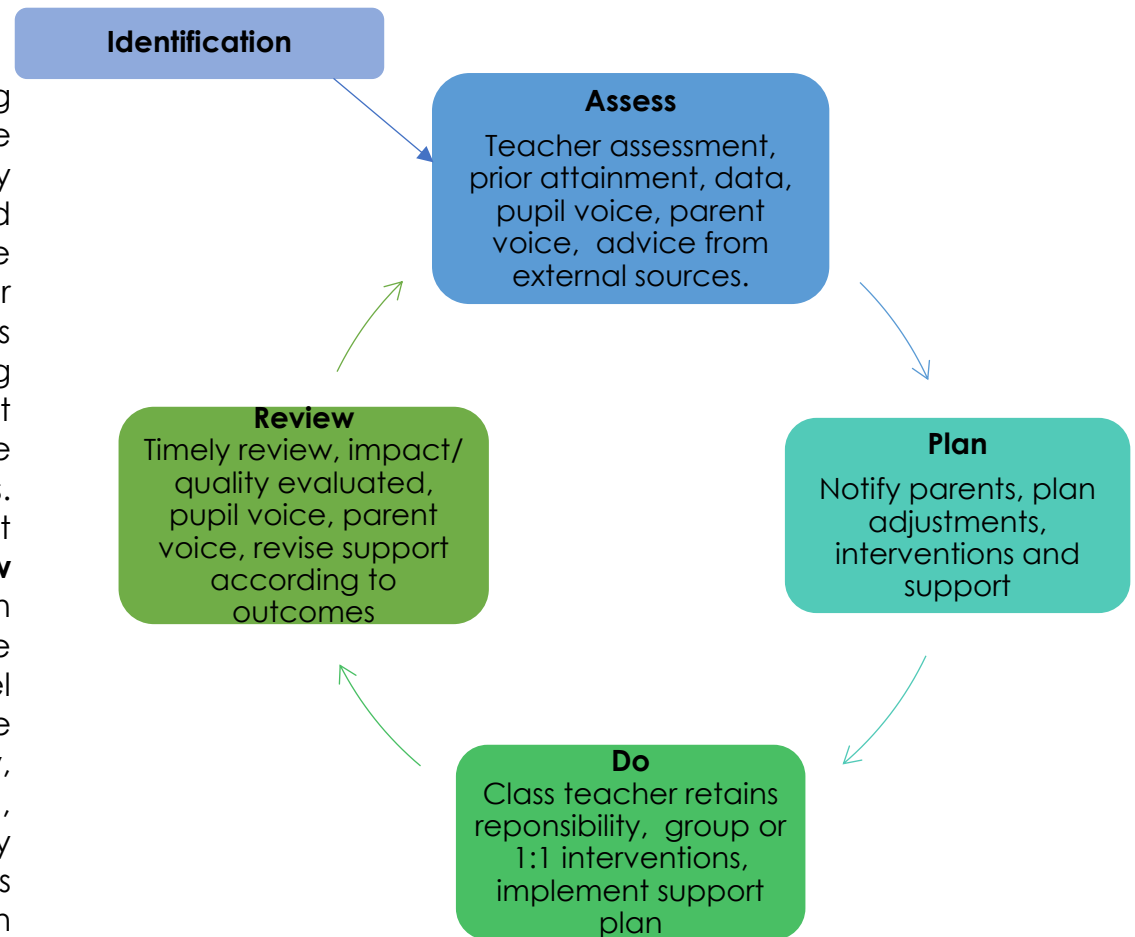

If there are concerns about a child at our School, including those who are looked after by the local authority, the teachers will discuss this with the SENDCo to try and identify what specific difficulties they are having. If the child is looked after by the local authority this process will also include the teacher who is designated to lead support for looked after children. The teacher may be advised to make adaptations to the learning environment, lesson planning and resourcing to try and remove any barriers to learning. Quality First Teaching (QFT) is often enough for most children to make good progress. Should the changes made to QFT not have the desired effect on the child's progress, the model of Assess, Plan, Do, Review will be followed by the school to assess the child's needs, plan interventions/provisions to support them, do the actions in the plan and then review the impact. This is a cyclical model which is shown in the diagram opposite. Where, despite the school taking relevant and purposeful action to identify, assess and meet the special educational needs of the child, the child has not made expected progress, the school may decide that it is necessary to request an integrated needs assessment from the local authority in alignment with Worcestershire's graduated response policy. Providing student's meet Worcestershire's criteria for assessment, this is the first step to getting an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). Parents can request an EHC assessment at any time if they feel that their child needs a full assessment of their needs. Parents can find more information about the process at <https://www.ipsea.org.uk/ehc-needs-assessments>. Further information is also available on the Worcestershire SEND Services website:

Quality first teaching

5. How does our School consult parents of children with SEND and children with SEND and involve them in their education?

Parents: At our School we value the contribution that parents can make to their child's education. Parents are experts when it comes to their children and we will always listen to any concerns you may have about your child. In the first instance, the class/form teacher is the main contact as they work with your child every day. Class teachers are available for a brief, informal discussion at the end of each school day, or you can make an appointment to see them if you feel you need more time to discuss any concerns. Over the course of the year there are multiple parents' evenings and you will also receive a reports at set points. For children on the school's SEND Register, you are offered a termly meeting with your child's class/form tutor to review your child's current learning plan and be part of designing the next one. Where a child has an EHCP the SENDCo may also be involved in this meeting. All children on the SEND register will also have a one page profile which will be shared with the child, parents and school staff who work closely with your child. The one page profiles will contain information about how everyone involved in your child's education can support them effectively and how they will help themselves. This will be updated termly at learning plan meetings.

Children: School staff aim to include your child's views wherever possible when planning provision to meet their needs. Children are given regular verbal and written feedback and have daily conversations with their teachers about their learning. As a school we encourage parents to bring their child to their parents' evening appointments so that teachers can share their successes and targets with the child together with their parents. One page profiles are created by the class/form tutor and where appropriate the child and they have a say about what information the profile contains. They have an opportunity to say what helps them with their learning which is then shared with all staff who work with the child. The school Parliament which has representatives from every class. We ensure that the School Parliament/council is representative of the community it serves and ensure that children with SEND have an opportunity to stand for this and be voted in by their peers.

6. What does our School do to prepare children with SEND for transition to their next school?

7. What approach does our School take to teaching children with SEND?

Our teachers are skilled in adapting teaching and learning to meet the diverse range of needs in class. When planning lessons, teachers consider individual children's needs and requirements. Adaptation is approached in a range of ways to support access and ensure that all pupils can experience success and challenge in their learning. Where available, additional adults are used appropriately to help groups and individual pupils with a long-term aim of developing independent learning skills. Teachers and teaching assistants work with a range of groups over the course of the week to ensure that children don't become reliant on adult support. This support is monitored through book scrutinises, learning walks and lesson visits.

Quality First Teaching (QFT) strategies are used to ensure all children have access to the curriculum alongside their peer group. This includes, but is not limited, to the following strategies:

- Adapted lesson planning by level / outcome / pitch / pace and support
- Ongoing assessment
- Clear learning objectives and success criteria
- Adjusted lesson pace
- Visual supports
- Learning Partners
- Dyslexia Friendly Practice
- Visual Timetables
- Word banks
- Differentiated homework tasks
- Access to online learning at home
- Targeted catch-up interventions
- Small group teaching
- Quiet area to work
- Pre and post-teaching of concepts
- Fiddle toys
- Mixed attainment grouping
- Daily Word Aware vocabulary teaching
- Wobble cushions / sensory equipment
- Facilities in school to address personal care, dietary, toileting, medication needs and mobility support
- Access to ICT to support learning
- Additional adults deployed effectively
- Clear routines, structured tasks and rewards
- Engagement with parents
- Liaison with the SENDCo
- Teacher repetition / reinforcement

8. What expertise and training do the staff have to support children with SEND?

All staff working at our School have receive regular training in school during staff meetings, 'twilights', 5 x Teacher Education Days (TED) across the year, online courses and through external providers. Training is carefully planned to address areas of expertise that require development students needs and to ensure ongoing updates to training previously covered. Training can be delivered by a variety of different people such as: school/trust staff, Speech and Language Therapists, Chadsgrove Specialist Teachers, Educational Psychologists and other outside professional agencies. Our School is also part of the Worcestershire and Chadsgrove SENDCo Network and all the SENDCo's attend regular meetings and conferences with colleagues from across the county to share good practice and to keep up to date with developments within SEND.

The following SEND training and qualifications have been undertaken by the staff at our School. Each school does also have access to the expertise at other schools within the Trust:

9. What does our School do to ensure children with SEND can access all activities?

School staff are experienced at developing appropriate adaptations to both the curriculum and to the resources used in order to enable all children to fully access the opportunities available to them. When planning the curriculum, staff consider access for all children to ensure that they can take part in all activities. Quality First Teaching (see section 6) ensures that children's individual needs are planned for with additional adult support, differentiated tasks or additional resources put in place where necessary. Where an activity is taking place off-site, consideration is given to ensuring access for all children and any required adaptations or additional staffing requirements are accounted for. Adult to child ratios are carefully planned to ensure adequate staffing at all times whilst off-site. A Risk Assessment is carried out by the lead teacher in consultation with senior leaders and the School SENDCo if necessary, to ensure adaptations or additional support required is provided for the inclusion of children with SEND.

10. What support is there for improving emotional and social development?

“The anxious child is not a learning child”

We take a whole school approach to improving emotional and social development at our School. Through our trauma informed schools and relationship-based approaches we ensure a holistic method is used when developing positive, social emotional wellbeing and development. Staff are skilled in identifying social and emotional difficulties in children and we have a trained Youth Mental Health First Aider on each site. Children are encouraged to discuss any worries or concerns with a trusted adult in school so that they can be dealt with promptly. This means that they do not manifest into more serious difficulties. We have a number of interventions available within school to support the development of positive social skills such as qualified Trauma Informed School or Thrive staff, Lego Therapy, Talkabout for Children, break and lunchtime clubs, tailored transition support programmes, social stories and home/school contact books where appropriate. In addition, the school calls on the expertise of outside agency support such as the complex communication needs team and Early Intervention Family Support Workers who can offer individual support to children and their families around their social, emotional mental health. In addition, we work with a local charities who offer support for identified children. We are also able to offer therapy for children who may have experienced trauma or bereavement. Should a child's emotional needs affect their mental health, we may make a referral to the Childhood and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS) in consultation with parents / guardians. The Trust takes all reports of bullying seriously and deals with reports appropriately. For further details, please see your schools Anti-Bullying Policy.

11. How does our School involve others in meeting the needs of children with SEND and their families?

In some cases, outside professionals from education, health or social care may already be involved with the child. Where these professionals have not already been working with the school staff, the SENDCo may refer them should the school and parents feel this is appropriate. Any involvement of outside agencies is with the consent of parents and following ongoing discussions with all concerned. The SENDCo will support the further assessment of the child, coordinating the completion of referral paperwork and assisting in planning future support for them in discussion with colleagues and monitoring the action taken. The child's Teachers will remain responsible for working with the child on a day to day basis and for planning and delivering an individualised programme appropriate to their needs. The class teacher is the first port of call if you have concerns about your child's development. Parents will always be consulted and kept informed of the action taken to help the child and of the outcome of this action.

As a school we have developed close working relationships with a number of outside agencies and work closely with the following organisations / agencies (and others where appropriate) in order to identify areas of need and make recommendations for any adaptations to provision. These recommendations then form part of the student's next learning plan and one page profile.

12.What should I do if I have a complaint about the provision for children with SEND?

At our School, we are proud of our provision for children with SEND. All staff share a commitment to ensuring every child's needs are met and strive for excellence in the provision for all children that we work with. If a parent feels that the provision that their child receives falls short of our very high expectations, this should be raised with the class teacher in the first instance. Should the matter remain unresolved, parents are able to make an appointment with the SENDCo via the school office either for a telephone call or a face to face meeting. In addition, any concerns can also be raised with the Head of school or senior leadership team. In the unlikely event that a parent feels that the matter is not resolved in a satisfactory way they should follow their school's policy for complaints which can be found on the school website or a paper copy can be requested from the school office.
