

Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) Information Report

2026 – 2027

Adopted by

Catshill Federation

This report is reviewed and updated annually by a Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Coordinator within the Trust and approved annually by the Trust Board.

It is adopted by each school and published on the individual school's website in line with statutory requirements. It outlines how the school identifies and supports pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) and how the policy is put into practice in our school.

It should be read alongside the SEND Policy. All schools within the Trust follow the same SEND principles and statutory duties while adapting provision to meet the needs of their individual communities.

This report has been written in line with the SEND Code of Practice (2015) and the Children and Families Act (2014).

3. What kinds of SEND are provided for at our School?

The SEND Code of Practice (2015) identifies four main categories of need: Communication and Interaction, Cognition and Learning, Social, Emotional and Mental Health and Sensory and/or Physical. Our school supports pupils across all four areas with a wide range of needs. Some children may have needs that fall into more than one category below. For example, a child with autism may also experience difficulties with anxiety and may therefore have needs in both Communication and Interaction and Social, Emotional and Mental Health. Below are examples of difficulties that may fall within these categories. Further details are available in our SEND Policy.

Communication and Interaction

Difficulties in communicating with others
Difficulties with social interactions

Difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is said to them, not understanding social rules of communication

Children with Autism are likely to have difficulty with social interaction

Flexibility of thought
Forming meaningful relationships

Cognition and Learning

Learning at a slower pace than their peers

Moderate Learning Difficulties (MLD)

Severe Learning Difficulties (SLD)

Profound and Multiple Difficulties (PMLD)

Specific Learning Difficulties (SpLD) such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia

Social, Emotional and Mental Health

May demonstrate challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour

Emotional wellbeing and mental health including:
Anxiety or depression, Self-harming and Eating disorders

Attachment disorder

Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) or Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD)

Developmental trauma
Neurodevelopmental difficulties

Vision Impairment (VI)

Hearing Impairment (HI)

Multi-sensory Impairment (MSI)

Physical Disability (PD)

We are committed to meeting the needs of all pupils with SEND through a graduated and inclusive approach.

4. How does our School identify and assess children with SEND?

The school uses its best endeavours to ensure that the support provided meets the needs of pupils with SEND, in line with the Children and Families Act 2014.

We identify pupils with SEND through a range of information, including:

- Teacher assessment and observation
- Progress over time
- Concerns raised by parents/carers
- Information from previous settings
- Advice from external professionals where appropriate

All pupils receive high-quality teaching that is adapted to their needs. Where a pupil does not make expected progress, we follow a graduated approach (Assess - Plan - Do - Review). Full details of this process are set out in our SEND Policy.

Children may be identified as having SEND in a number of ways, often through a combination of the following:

- Liaison with previous school or pre-school setting
- The child is performing significantly below age-related expectation (or equivalent e.g. percentile rankings)
- Concerns raised by a parent
- Concerns raised by a teacher
- Liaison with external agencies such as Educational Psychologists, Speech and Language Therapist, Occupational Therapist, Learning Support Teacher and the Complex Communication Needs Team
- Use of assessment tools such as standardised tests, Dyslexia Pathway, Dyspraxia Motorway and the Strengths and Difficulties Questionnaire
- Pupils are placed on the SEND register when they require provision that is additional to or different from high-quality teaching, and this need is sustained over time
- If a child makes good progress and no longer needs extra support, they may be removed from the SEND register in discussion with parents/carers. We continue to monitor their progress.

If there are concerns about a child, the class teacher will discuss these with the SENDCo to help identify any specific difficulties. For children who are looked after by the local authority, the designated teacher for looked after children will also be involved.

The teacher may be advised to make adaptations to the learning environment, lesson planning and resources to remove barriers to learning.

High-quality teaching (sometimes referred to as Quality First Teaching) is the first step in supporting all pupils. This is sometimes referred to as Ordinarily Available Provision.

Where this is not the case, the Assess-Plan-Do-Review model is used to assess needs, plan appropriate support, implement provision and review its impact. This is a cyclical process. This approach is part of a graduated response to SEND support:

- High-quality teaching (universal provision)
- Targeted support (additional school-based interventions)
- Specialist support (external agency involvement)

Where, despite relevant and purposeful action, a child does not make expected progress, the school may request an Education, Health and Care (EHC) Needs Assessment from the local authority, in line with Worcestershire's Graduated Response.

Before a pupil is identified as requiring SEN Support, they will receive this initial level of support (Ordinarily Available Provision).

Teachers regularly assess and review the impact of these approaches as part of everyday practice.

If a pupil does not make expected progress despite access to this support, the school will then consider whether additional provision through SEN Support is required, following the Assess - Plan - Do - Review cycle.

If a pupil meets the local authority's criteria, this may lead to an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). The school will ensure that the provision specified within an EHCP is implemented. Parents/carers can request an EHC needs assessment at any time.

5. How does our School consult parents/carers of children with SEND and children with SEND and involve them in their education?

Parents/carers: At our School, we value the important contribution that parents/carers make to their child's education. Parents/carers are experts on their children and we will always listen to any concerns you may have.

In the first instance, the class/form teacher is the main point of contact, as they work with your child each day. Class teachers are available for a brief, informal discussion at the end of the school day, or appointments can be made for more detailed conversations.

Throughout the year, there are regular parents/carers' evenings, and you will also receive reports at set points. For children on the school's SEND register, termly meetings are offered to review your child's current learning plan and contribute to the next steps. Where a child has an EHCP, the SENDCo may also attend these meetings.

All children on the SEND register have a one-page profile, which is shared with the child, parents/carers and relevant staff. This outlines how best to support your child and how they can support their own learning. These profiles are reviewed and updated termly.

Children: School staff aim to include children's views wherever possible when planning provision. Pupils receive regular verbal and written feedback and have ongoing conversations with their teachers about their learning.

We encourage parents/carers to bring their child to parents/carers' evenings so that successes and next steps can be shared together.

One-page profiles are created by the class/form tutor and, where appropriate, the child has input into the content and a say about what information the profile contains.

The school Parliament/council has representatives from every class. We ensure it reflects the diversity of the school community and that children with SEND can participate and be elected by their peers.

6. What does our School do to prepare children with SEND for transition to their next school?

We recognise that transitions can be particularly challenging for pupils with SEND and provide additional support to ensure a smooth and successful transition to the next stage of education.

7. What approach does our School take to teaching children with SEND?

Our teachers are skilled in adapting teaching and learning to meet the diverse range of needs in class. When planning lessons, teachers consider individual children's needs and requirements. Teaching is adapted in a range of ways to support access and ensure that all pupils can experience success and challenge in their learning. Where available, additional adults are used appropriately to help groups and individual pupils with a long-term aim of developing independent learning skills. Teachers and teaching assistants work with different groups over the course of the week to ensure that children don't become reliant on adult support. This support is monitored through book trawls, learning walks and lesson visits.

High-quality teaching (sometimes referred to as Quality First Teaching) is used to ensure that all pupils can access the curriculum alongside their peers. Teachers use a range of adaptive teaching strategies to support access to the curriculum. This includes, but is not limited to, the following strategies:

- | | | | |
|---|-------------------------------------|--|--|
| ● Adapted lesson planning by level / outcome / pitch / pace and support | ● Visual Timetables | ● Fidget tools | ● Access to IT to support learning |
| ● Ongoing assessment | ● Word banks | ● Mixed attainment grouping | ● Additional adults deployed effectively |
| ● Clear learning objectives and success criteria | ● Differentiated homework tasks | ● Daily Word Aware vocabulary teaching | ● Clear routines, structured tasks and rewards |
| ● Adjusted lesson pace | ● Access to online learning at home | ● Sensory equipment such as Wobble cushions | ● Engagement with parents/carers |
| ● Visual supports | ● Targeted catch-up interventions | ● Facilities to support personal care, dietary, toileting, medication and mobility needs | ● Liaison with the SENDCo |
| ● Learning Partners | ● Small group teaching | | ● Teacher repetition and reinforcement |
| ● Dyslexia Friendly Practice | ● Quiet area to work | | |
| | ● Pre and post-teaching of concepts | | |

The effectiveness of SEND provision is evaluated through:

- Ongoing assessment and pupil progress data
- Provision mapping and intervention reviews
- Pupil voice and parent/carers feedback
- SENDCo monitoring including learning walks, book scrutiny and lesson visits

8. What expertise and training do the staff have to support children with SEND?

All staff working at our School receive regular training in school during staff meetings, 'twilights', Teacher Education Days (TED) across the year, online courses and through external providers.

Training is carefully planned to address areas of expertise that require development, based on pupils' needs, and to ensure ongoing updates to training previously covered. Training may be delivered by a range of professionals, including:

- School/Trust staff
- Speech and Language Therapists
- Chadsgrove Specialist Teachers
- Educational Psychologists
- Other external professional agencies

Our School is also part of the Worcestershire and Chadsgrove SENDCo Network, and all the SENDCos attend regular meetings and conferences with colleagues from across the county to share good practice and to keep up to date with developments within SEND.

9. What does our School do to ensure children with SEND can access all activities?

School staff are experienced at developing appropriate adaptations to the curriculum and resources used in order to enable all children to fully access the opportunities available to them. When planning the curriculum, staff ensure that all children can access and participate in all activities. High-quality teaching (Section 7) ensures that children's individual needs are planned for through appropriate adaptations, including additional adult support, adapted tasks and resources where necessary.

Where an activity is taking place off-site, consideration is given to ensuring access for all children and any required adaptations or additional staffing requirements are accounted for. Adult to child ratios are carefully planned to ensure appropriate staffing at all times during off-site activities. A Risk Assessment is carried out by the lead teacher in consultation with Senior Leaders and the School SENDCo if necessary, to ensure that any required adaptations or additional support are provided for the inclusion of children with SEND. The school's duties under the Equality Act 2010 apply to all disabled pupils, whether or not they are identified as having special educational needs.

We make reasonable adjustments to ensure that pupils with disabilities are not placed at a disadvantage. This includes adaptations to teaching, resources, the environment and school activities. Further details are set out in the school's Accessibility Plan on the website.

Our Accessibility Plan, available on the school website, sets out how we are improving access to the curriculum, environment and information over time.

These arrangements support the school in meeting its duties under the Equality Act 2010 by ensuring pupils with disabilities are not placed at a disadvantage.

10. What support is there for improving emotional and social development?

"An anxious child is not a learning child"

We take a whole school approach to improving emotional and social development at our School. Through our values, trauma informed/TGMC and relationship-based approaches, we use a holistic approach to support pupils' social, emotional and mental health.

Staff are skilled in identifying social and emotional difficulties in children and we have a trained Youth Mental Health First Aider on each site. Children are encouraged to discuss any worries or concerns with a trusted adult in school so that they can be dealt with promptly. This helps to prevent concerns from developing into more serious difficulties.

We provide a range of interventions to support positive social and emotional development, including support from trained Trauma Informed School or TGMC practitioners, Lego Therapy, Talkabout for Children, break and lunchtime clubs, tailored transition support programmes, social stories and regular home/school contact via ePraise where appropriate.

We also work closely with external agencies (see page 14) who provide additional support for children and their families. In addition, we work with local charities and can offer therapeutic support for children who may have experienced trauma or bereavement.

Where a child's emotional needs impact their mental health, we may make a referral to Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services (CAMHS) in consultation with parents/carers.

We recognise that some pupils with SEND may be more vulnerable to safeguarding risks. Staff are trained to understand and respond to these needs, including adapting communication where necessary. The SENDCo works closely with the Designated Safeguarding Lead to ensure pupils are safe and well supported. Further information is available in the school's Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

11. How does our School involve external agencies and other professionals in meeting the needs of children with SEND and their families?

In some cases, external professionals from education, health or social care may already be involved with the child. Where these professionals are not already working with the school staff, the SENDCo may make referrals where the school and parents/carers feel this is appropriate.

Any involvement of external agencies takes place with the consent of parents/carers and following ongoing discussion. The SENDCo will support the further assessment of the child, coordinating referrals, contributing to assessments, supporting planning for future provision and monitoring the impact of support.

Class teachers remain responsible for working with the child on a day-to-day basis and for planning and delivering appropriate provision. The class teacher is the first point of contact if you have concerns about your child's development. Parents/carers are consulted and kept informed of any actions taken and the outcomes of the support.

As a school, we have developed strong partnerships with a range of external agencies to support the identification of needs and the planning of effective provision. Recommendations from these professionals inform the child's learning plan and one-page profile.

We work closely with a range of external agencies, including:

Speech and Language Therapy	Chadsgrove Outreach Services	The Hub	Independent Behaviour Consultants
The Beacon Pupil Referral Unit	Educational Psychologist	Bonne Terre	Physical Disabilities Outreach
Occupational Therapists	Visual and Hearing Impairment Specialists		Perryfields Pupil Referral Unit
Fort Royal Special School Outreach Team	Early Help and Targeted Family Support Workers	Mentor Link
CAMHS	Aspire Academy	Play Therapy/Counselling	ContinU Plus Academy
			The Forge Pupil Referral Unit

Information about pupils with SEND is treated sensitively and shared only with staff and professionals who need it to support the child. We follow the requirements of the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018. Further information can be found in the school's Privacy Notice on the website.

12. What should I do if I have a complaint about the provision for children with SEND?

At all Trust's schools, we are proud of our provision for children with SEND. All staff share a commitment to ensuring every child's needs are met and strive for excellence in the provision for all pupils.

If a parent/carer feels that the provision their child receives falls short of our expectations, this should be raised with the class teacher in the first instance. Should the matter remain unresolved, parents/carers can make an appointment with the SENDCo via the school office either for a telephone call or a face-to-face meeting. In addition, any concerns can also be raised with the Headteacher/Head of School or Senior Leadership Team.

If the matter is not resolved, parents/carers should follow the individual Trust school's Complaints Policy, which is available on the school website or as a paper copy from the school office.
